

Understanding & Supporting Children with Complex Emotional & Sensory Needs: A TRAINING PROGRAM

ABOUT THE TRAINING PROGRAM

This Training Program will review trauma-informed care as a strengths-based approach to aid in the understanding and responsiveness of children who have experienced trauma.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

- Learn about types of trauma and when trauma occurs
- Learn how to recognize symptoms of trauma in children and families
- Acquire sensory system resources for effective communication for children with complex emotional and sensory needs
- Recognize the core needs of children and adults that impact the development of trust and safety
- Understand the stages of child development and how to meet needs at each stage
- Receive additional community resources for trauma-informed care